Self Assessment -1

* Required

1. Which of the following is not correct? * (2 Points)

- Objective that we aim to maximize or minimize
- Constraints that we need to specify
- Decision variables that we need to determine
- Decision variables are to be unrestricted

2. Which of the following is not correct about LPP? * (2 Points)

- All constraints must be linear relationship
- Objective function must be linear
- All the constraints and decision variables must be of either "less than or equal to" or "greater than or equal to" type.
- All the decision variables must be non negative

3. Which of the following is not correct? * (2 Points)

- The graphical approach to an LPP is most suitable when there are only two decision variables.
- A possible solution on the graph corresponds to every point (x,y)
- The graphical approach to an LPP is applicable when the number of decision variables are more than the number of constraints
- The common region that satisfies all the constraints is called the feasible region.

4. Which of the following is not correct? * (2 Points)

- The graphical approach to the solution of LPP's cannot handle problems with more than three variables.
- A feasible solution to an LPP is one that satisfies at least one of the constraints of the problem
- An optimum solution to an LPP is a feasible solution which optimizes the objective function
- The feasible region is also termed as the solution space

5. Which of the following is not correct? * (2 Points)

- Feasible solution of an LPP is independent of the objective function
- The feasible region of an LPP must be a convex set
- The feasible region for a constraint is restricted if its '>=' or '<=' sign is replaced by a '=' sign
- It is not possible to obtain feasible solution of an LPP by graphical method.
